STRIKING OUT SIS

© 1963, WESTERN PUBLISHING COMPANY, INC.

Billy Johnson threw his baseball glove on the hall table and slouched into the nearest chair.

"What's the matter?" asked his father. "A bad day?"

"Oh, I hit a home run in the second inning with two on," said Billy, "but then I came up in the last inning with two men on again, and I struck out and we lost the game."

"Sounds like it was a bad day," said his father, but don't feel too badly. Your sister just failed the Youth Physical Fitness Test."

"What's that?" asked Billy.

"She read about it in a magazine. It's right here. It says the President is worried about you children. You're not as strong as you should be. Why nearly a whole fifth-grade class failed to pass these few easy tests Bud Wilkinson set up."

"You mean Bud Wilkinson, the coach of the Oklahoma football team?"

"Right," said his father. "He's also consultant to the President of the United States on Youth Physical Fitness."

"And Sis failed the test?"

"She came close, but she failed it."

"I'll bet I could pass it," said Billy.

"All right," said his father. "The first is the pull-up. Let's see, maybe we could use the bar in the closet."

Billy ran in and pushed the clothes aside. He jumped up and grabbed the bar.

"That's right, your palms away from you. Now hang down until your arms are straight. Pull yourself up until your chin is over the bar."

Billy took a deep breath and pulled himself up.

"Great!" said his father. "Now let yourself down slowly until your arms are straight again, and do another one."

Billy puffed and struggled. It was a lot harder than the first time, but he finally made it.

"How did I do?" he asked.

"You did two, and it says here that you're only supposed to be able to do one, so I'd say you did pretty good. Let's try the sit-ups now."

Billy lay down on the floor with his feet apart, and laced his hands behind his neck. His father held his ankles.

"Now touch your right elbow to your left knee, then back down, then up and touch your left elbow to your right knee."

"That's easy," said Billy, and it was.

"You really murdered that one!" said his father. "Fourteen is passing and you did 23. Now let's see you do the squat thrust."

"I know that one," said Billy, and from a standing position, he stooped down, put his hands on the floor, kicked his feet out straight in back, then pulled his feet back to a squat and stood again.

"That's right," said his father. "Now you have to do four of those in ten seconds." He looked at his watch. "Go!"

Billy was tired by this time, but he did four as fast as he could. He didn't think he made it.

"Nine seconds!" His father smiled and patted him on the back. "I guess we don't have to worry about you, Billy."

"Well, I may have struck out, but I sure beat my sister!"

Billy's father laughed. "And a lot of other people, too!"

INSTANT LIVE SEA ANIMALS

just add water . . . you've got INSTANT LIFE

ONLY $1.00

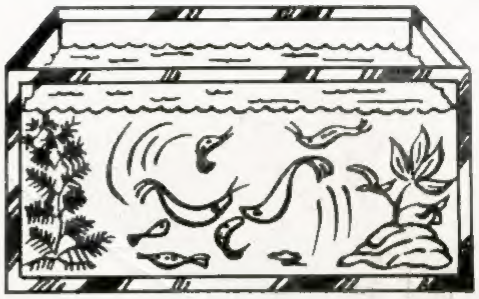
It's true. Now, right before your eyes — in just 24-72 hours — a happy troupe of hundreds of playful tumbling sea-monkeys (exotic Saskatchewan Brine Shrimp) that are more fun than a sea full of seals. Amaze both children and adults as you watch the comic antics of these fantastic underwater sea clowns. Day and night you'll see them chase each other in a playful game of hide and seek. The loser gets caught by the tail and is spun in a dizzy circle. See the "showoffs" turn somersaults under water . . . see the ticklish ones scratch each others' backs. Watch them cavort singly or glide gracefully in formation creating your own underwater circus.

MIRACLE OF LIFE

Right before your eyes these genuine live sea animals burst forth from "magic" powder eggs which will remain alive as long as eight years. You can raise an entire troupe in an ordinary glass jar using just tap water. It's so easy . . . just empty the package into a jar or fish bowl, add water and you have created "instant life." You can have a whole sea brood to give as gifts or sell if you wish.

SEE THEM OBEY YOUR SILENT COMMANDS

Darken the room and watch them follow a flashlight or candle beam forwards, backwards, sideways or around like a pack of happy kids playing follow the leader. Order now.



SEE THEM CHANGE COLOR

Mail this coupon and we'll send you 3 colors of sea-monkeys — white, pink and red. These are their natural colors. Yet, with a drop of vegetable food dye in their water, you can change the color of these little sea monkeys as often as you wish. Make them green, blue, purple, yellow or any other hue or shade without harming them. This dye will enable you to see their internal organs and how their life processes function.
